DIEGO RIVERA

Head Winemaker, Amayna & Boya

Diego Rivera is the winemaker and vineyard manager at Garces Silva in the Leyda Valley, where the internationally acclaimed cool-climate, coastal, sustainable wines of Amayna and Boya are produced.

Diego is particularly passionate about protecting nature and biodiversity for future generations and implements these practices in the vineyard. Diego was born and raised in Santiago, where he also studied agronomy and winemaking. He has spent ten years at Garces Silva and was recently awarded Young Winemaker of the Year by Tim Atkin in 2022.

In addition to his passion for winemaking and preservation, Diego enjoys spending his personal time gardening and cooking, playing soccer and tennis, and spending time with his wife, two young children and dog Nina.

Favorite Wine & Food Pairing:

Pinot Noir or Gamay and Pizza,
Sauvignon Blanc and Ceviche.
